When we initially developed the treasury data dashboard, many people believed it would be a simple task due to the availability of on-chain information. However, it turned out to be more complex than anticipated. Among them, labeling is one of the major difficulty. The following labels represent our general categorization based on data tracking. Apart from regular salary payments, there are instances of funds being immediately split and transferred to new addresses (which is marked as unknown type1 and may require communication with the DAO). Additionally, there are transactions involving USDC, usually related to MM activities.
